Historic sites shown at Chamber meeting

Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism's 'travelling road show' on historic sites came to Elk Point on Monday, with Promotions Officer Judy Berghofer leading the sparse crowd at the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting on an armchair travelogue of Alberta's history.

Ms. Berghofer, who was accompanied by her assistant Sam Erasmus, invited those present to 'experience the past' at such diverse sites across the province as the Frank Slide Interpretive Centre in the Crownsnest Pass, the Ukrainian Cultural Heritage Village east of Edmonton, the Dunvegan Bridge on the Peace River, and Cochrane Rancho, near Calgary.

Historic sites in Alberta range from major developments such as the Tyrrell Museum near Drumheller, where 500,000 visitors per year explore Alberta's prehistoric past, and Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump, west of Fort Macleod, where 200,000 visitors viewed the history of the Plains Indians last year, to small sites such as the Stephansson House, southwest of Red Deer, which was home to one of Iceland's most famous poets, and St. Albert's Father Lacombe Chapel, the oldest building in Alberta.

Several new sites are in the planning stage. Along with Elk Point's Fort George-Buckingham House fort sites, these include the Remington Carriage Centre in Cardston, which will house the largest collection of carriages in North America, the Reynolds Museum at Wetaskiwin, scheduled to open in 1992 with a vast display of antique machinery, and a field station at Devil's Coulee in southeast Alberta, location of a recent discovery of dinosaur eggs.

What will be developed at Fort George-Buckingham House, Ms. Berghofer said, 'will depend on the community. None of the sites could have been developed as they were without local input. The government can't do it alone.'

Stories of the Elk Point area's fur trading days will be added to the Historic Sites show, along with pictures of the fort sites, and taken to travel shows all over North America, Ms. Berghofer said. Historic sites have a special appeal for those who want a truly western experience, she added, and show that Alberta has more to offer than the mountain parks.

Ms. Berghofer, who lived in Elk Point for two years 'in the time of A-Ti-Yek Days,' was delighted with the gift of a copy of Elk Point's history book, Reflections, presented by Frank Mayner, who thanked the visitor for her most interesting and informative talk and displays.

The business portion of the meeting was brief, with the membership fee schedule proposed at the first regular meeting of the year ratified, and no further nominees for the Chamber's 1989 executive. President Vicki Brooker, Vice President Bill Tremblay, Secretary Gail Kozicky and Treasurer Lauri Leaf were elected by acclamation. Committee personnel were called for, with Dave Yake and Armand Houle volunteering for the Public Relations Committee. No other volunteers came forward, so the balance of committees will be brought back before the March 1 regular meeting to fill in the gaps.

Maz will visit Saturday

Deputy Prime Minister Don Mazankowski will be in Elk Point Saturday, and will visit with district residents at a coffee party hosted by Mayor Bruce Kleeberger. The gathering will be held at the Pioneer Circle Hall, beginning at 3:00 p.m., and everyone is welcome. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

ALBERTA CULTURE PROMOTIONS OFFICER—Judy Berghofer brought the 'historic sites road show' to the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting Monday evening, for an interesting and informative look at Alberta's past through the sites which remain to be enjoyed by today's tourists.

Elks in second round

Elk Point Elks will move into their second round of Provincial Senior Hockey playoffs Saturday night, as they take on Stettler in the first game of a two-game, total-point series, after winning their first round over Consort Comets in the first round.

The game is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at the A. G. Ross Arena. Be sure to come out for some excellent hockey action, and let's show the Elks our support by filling the arena to the rafters with fans!

Sunday night will see the Elks in Centennial League playoff action, as they go up against the Cold Lake Packers in the first game of the playoff series. Game time is 8:30 p.m. at the A. G. Ross Arena.

Community channel comes to Elk Point cable television

Something new has been added to cable television in Elk Point. As of January 27, Channel 5 hit the airwaves, bringing announcements of local events, local advertising, birthday and Valentine messages to the community.

Lawrence Pidluzny is in charge of programming, with broadcasting emanating from the computer room at F. G. Miller High School. The basic equipment for the community channel's operation was supplied by A-1 Cable-Systems, who hold Elk Point's cable television franchise, with the only immediate startup cost locally being for a telephone hookup. Prior to the commencement of the service, Pidluzny approached local groups and businesses for sponsorship of the telephone line, in return for advertisement of their sponsorship. Dave's Pizza kindly consented to be the first sponsors, for a three month period.

Further local sponsorship will be sought to purchase additional equipment, such as an automatic thermometer device which will keep viewers informed of the present temperature as well as predicted highs and lows.

Items of local news, including school happenings, will also be broadcast on the community channel. Pidluzny has future plans for such other items of interest as showing films of local sporting events, and conducting phone-in polls to determine popular opinion on various issues.

To have your event advertised on the community channel, call 724-4339 and provide Pidluzny with the details. If he is not home, he urges those who call 'not to be afraid of the answering machine,' and to leave their name and number.

HOME OF THE COMMUNITY CHANNEL—Lawrence Pidluzny displays the computer from which Elk Point's new Community Service Channel 5 emanates. Although programming to this point has consisted mainly of announcements of coming events and local and school news items, an expanded lineup is hoped for in the near future.

Free to read

We in Canada are very fortunate. Whether our taste in literature is the Holy Bible, the latest Jackie Collins novel, Thunder-Cats comic books, the National Enquirer, Playboy magazine or 'How To Win Friends and Influence People', we have the freedom to read all about it, without fearing that anyone, with the possible exception of our irate mothers, could snatch it out of our hands and fling it into the fireplace.

We are allowed to read diverse views, unpopular and unorthodox expressions of opinion, if we so desire, right along with our ladies' homemaking magazines and the stock market reports in the daily papers. The Statement of Intellectual Freedom says so.

Possibly this is not good for us. We could learn that there are wierd people out there, whose ideas and activities make the books that were 'banned in Boston' a number of years ago look like nursery rhymes by comparison. There are books which could scare us with their tales of gruesome murders, creatures from outer space, or threats of impending doom. There are books which call members of our society unflattering names, whether they be movie stars or minority groups, which could prompt us to do likewise.

If we read these things, we could be torn out of our comfortable conformity, and made to—oh, horrors!—THINK! We could be encouraged to think about the injustices done to people who don't look like us, or have our religion, way of life or customs. We could think about new discoveries and developments which could change our lives for good or bad. We might even think about what makes people behave the ways they do, or about politics. Isn't that scary?

But then, freedoms frequently are.

Molders of society

This week, Girl Guides, Brownies, Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, Beavers, their leaders, and many of those who used to belong to those groups will pay tribute to the memory of two individuals whose foresight changed and moulded the lives of countless youngsters around the world.

Lord Baden Powell, whose birthday is celebrated February 22, and his sister, Lady Baden Powell, started the Scouting and Guiding movements in 1907, in England. In 1910, the movements came to Canada. In the years since that time, youngsters from all walks of life have learned to enjoy the great outdoors, to help others, to lead healthy and worthwhile lives, thanks to the efforts of these pioneers of working with youth.

The impact on society by the Baden Powells, whose teachings of doing a good turn and being prepared for whatever life may bring have been handed down through several generations, cannot be denied. The widespread goodness has touched us all.

FEW PERSONS WOULD BE ABLE TO CREATE SUCH A MOSAIC OF BEAUTY — As this one panel among many, a bit of wall inside the Church of Notre Dame, in Old Montreal. Anyone, however, can enjoy it, and admire the combined skills of the builders.

Learning - Living

By Irene Magnusson

There are two things Mankind is meant to do, after surviving the strain and stresses of birth, as I see it, and the pain and pressure of growth. These are Learning and Living.

Learning must be the first step, for there is much to learn. But we are strangely resistant to learning. We fear the responsibilities "knowing" will place on us, for we can (or at least we think we can) hide behind the fence of "I don't know" and somehow shirk our responsibilities.

It is easier to "stay put", to not accept change. We can do the same thing, in the same way, once we have learned a little doggerel, and not have to stretch our brain cells to learn more, or new. Sometimes we put on false blinders, for "none is so blind as he who will not see." We learn best and fastest in our youth - why not? "Children's heads are hollow!" - or so I read in a long-ago poem. Some things we never question, we do them until they become habit, and these tend to stick with us. Some of us make little effort to learn until we are middle-aged - or after.

We learn better from those we admire, and may want to emulate. And certainly we learn faster, better, more surely some subjects than others. Take farmers: (I feel I can speak of them, as I was one) their resistance to learning their own trade can be prodigious. They will go to great pains to understand guns, or boats, or sports, or how to complain, yet stubbornly refuse to use the help and guidance available. It becomes habit, to be the under-dog, to blame others, to cry for help or concessions. They are not alone.

Having learned something, or what we are able, or have access to, we come to the Living part. As I see it, there are three parts to living. (a) To earn one's bread and comforts - work of necessity. (b) To enjoy one's leisure, the recreation, play, rest; and learning for the sake of knowledge and understanding; the enjoyment of family and friends. And (c) Work - for love of the work.

These last are the artists, writers, builders, musicians, counsellors, planters, sculptors - who may not need to work for his bread, but toils on for the work's sake. This includes those who only have time for these works after his day's toils to earn his daily bread are finished, deigning to merely follow (b) above. These workers are not just out for self-aggrandizement, but rather have a need for self-expression, for communication.

That these works are expressions of many men's emotions is not always understood. Perhaps each of us can express in some one way better than in any other, so we sing or sculpt, or build, for many others. In some this drive for self-expression is fanatically intense - so much so that (a) and (b) will be neglected - or even dispensed with.

Since all men cannot sing or dance or search the depths or study the stars, we turn with admiration and praise to those who do these things, thrilling most to those who do what we would do - if we could.

Those who have small love of work-for-work's-sake take less notice of the great ones, giving less praise, until at the bottom of the scale are those who cannot even tolerate the works of others, who cannot express themselves through understanding or

Letter To The Editor

Ward 2 voters concerned

TO THE EDITORS:

I am confused in last weeks paper, Mr. Williams, who is the Hospital Board member for Elk Point, stated that the board's decision to change the times of their meetings to when one member could not attend "isn't a big deal". Obviously not to him. That this would put approximately 2000 electorates without a voice into decisions that are made at the hospital is of little concern to him or this fellow board members??

Another statement that I find confusing is Mr. Williams' notation that the decision could easily be reversed if that is the Board members wish. Really? Then why did they deliberately vote to hold the meetings when Mr. Bjornstad couldn't attend? Especially after he 'presented strong arguments that the Board should return to evening meetings' (as quoted from the article Trustee Speaks).

If the Board, in their wisdom, go back to evening meetings so that they can all attend, I sincerely hope that they address Mr. Bjornstad's concerns regarding "financial accountability, quality control and staff management", in an open democratic process that invites opinions, concerns and suggestions and not one that tries to silence them.

After all, the hospital is a public institution providing services for the community and the Board members are our representatives. It is their responsibility to see that the hospital is run well and provides the health care services we need in Elk Point and District.

Concerned member of Ward No.2

TO THE EDITOR

We have a few concerns we'd like to share with other members of this hospital district.

First of all, in the Feb. 15 issue of this paper, Mr. Williams (the board's spokesman?) was quoted as saying that it was a "democratic vote - what can you do" (regarding the board's decision to change meeting times from evening to day). The board should be reminded that it was a democratic vote involving some 1500-2000 members of this hospital district that elected Mr. Bjornstad to represent them in the first place, and now our representation at board meetings is put in jeopardy due to a vote consisting of only 6 people.

Secondly, Mr. Williams was quoted as saying in the same article, that he feels this "isn't a big issue". It seems obvious from the concerned letters in this paper, the phone calls that have been made to the board members themselves, and the concerns being expressed in person, that this is a big issue to the residents of this hospital district. From previous articles it seems clear that the public is not only concerned about what was a deliberate, knowledgeable decision by the board to change established evening meetings to a time when Mr. Bjornstad had stated he would have difficulty attending, but also is now questioning the motives of the board, therefore expressing their lessening of absolute faith in their current board representatives.

So, "what can you do"? The solution seems to us that a fair answer would be that the board reconsider their decision and continue with evening meetings until the fall election, when a truly democratic vote can once more be made by the voters of this hospital district.

Sincerely
Voters of Ward 2

NORTH EAST LIBRARY PROJECT — Director Irene Miller accepts an $80,000 grant toward the establishment of a Library System in Northeast Alberta, from MLA John Drobot.

Elk Point Library receives grant

By Irene Magnusson

John Drobot, M.L.A. for St. Paul, recently presented a cheque in the amount of $80,000 to Irene Miller, of Elk Point, one of the Directors of the North-Eastern Library Project. The cheque, received at the Elk Point Public Library, February 9th, is an operating grant, to be used for the establishment of a library system in northeastern Alberta.

This Library System, presently in the formative stage, will extend to further reaches of northeastern Alberta, to bring new and innovative programs to rural areas. The Elk Point Library is to be part of this network.

The grant will be used, in part, to cover costs of the Directors meetings involved. Objectives to be undertaken by the Library System will include: bulk purchases of books; cataloguing of these books; laminating of covers, and distribution to libraries which order them.

It will also include the summer reading programs, which have already been established by the project and which are enjoyed by countless children in the summer months in the northeastern areas. Each year a subject is chosen - this year the subject is Dinosaurs - and is followed through with further information of the subject through the summer. In general, the books are non-fictional, planned to bring good information to the participants.

Part of the project's goal is to bring more detailed information, to be available to users in rural Libraries as readily as to users in larger centers. At present one could find answers to specific questions, but not so easily a wealth of information on all aspects of a given subject. The N.E. Library Project Directors seek to improve this situation.

The Directors, who are appointed by Town Council and Library Boards, meet to find ways to reach these goals, and the continuing challenge of bringing library services, through books and audio means, as readily to out-lying areas as to big city dwellers.

A visit to the Elk Point Library will show the Board are on the right track.

How wonderful if we could all dance like ballerinas when we are happy; to sob like a virtuoso's violin when we are sad. To build a skyscraper, a mighty dam, or pyramid, when we are strong; to paint like Picasso when we are troubled or upset, like da Vinci when we have visions, like Rembrandt or Gainsborough when we wish to imprint on our minds forever the features of a loved one; to plot the Universe when we are wondering, or take to outer space when we are weary of this sinful world. Could we all be Shakespear or Grimm when make-believe titillates us, Lincoln or Churchill when affairs of state displease us?

You and I cannot hope to reach these heights in any field, much less in all. These were the chosen few, the great ones. Most of us live and die, never having learned if we are brave or cowards. No test has confronted us.

Still - we can look at captured beauty, on canvas, page or bust, and know that it is beauty seen by many men. (I count myself a 'man' in that I am of the race of man).

We can open our ears to the sounds of glory, rage and hope, to the stirrings of love questioning or love serene. We can admire the works of man, down through the ages, damaged, yet built again, for the work's sake. These were built for you and me. Lister and Pasteur, Banting and Salk worked not for themselves alone. They worked for you and me.

Let us do whatever we are able, the labor of love beyond the call of our own needs, be it planting a tree, feeding a child - creating a masterpiece or composing a concerto. We will be doing it for those not able to do it for themselves. I will be doing it for you, and you for me. Someone is singing your song, flying your jet, painting your vision, realizing your dream, whatever it may be. Seek him out - and see your work done well.

Pacers win own tournament

By Verhomme Thompson
Staff Writer

With a final score of 96-92 the Elk Point Pacers accomplished something which hadn't been done since the 1979-80 basketball season, they won their own tournament. The team they beat, Edmonton Norwood, is one of the top teams in their own division out of Edmonton and included players such as Dale Getty (21 points) and Rick Gawlick (20 points).

However, the Pacers were led by Rick Stanley who led all scorers in the game with 61 points and collected the game MVP award. Also scoring for Elk Point were Jim Mistol with 18 points and Terry Mistol with 12 points.

The finals couldn't have been more exciting as the teams traded the lead several times before the end of the game. And each went on their respective point scoring stretches temporarily burying the other team.

"This is our 16th annual tournament and were 12 teams entered. It was really well run and well organized, a lot of the guys really worked hard. We would like to give special thanks to Ray Danyluk. He's been with us for 16 years and it (the tournament) was kind of a tribute to him. We would also like to thank Cathy Mistol, Connie Hearn and Cathy Buck for helping score keep and to all the fans who showed up," explained Terry Mistol.

For the tournament, the Pacers got a hold of Warren Kyle from Wetaskawin and Stanley, who played for the Alberta Golden Bears last year and the rest of the players are just ordinary Pacers from the Elk Point St. Paul area.

"He (Stanley) is in a league all by himself, there is nobody else who comes close to him."

One thing the Pacers didn't expect was to win the tournament and they played with fear going up against Norwood.

"We were scared as hell, we saw them play and this team is in first place in first division in Edmonton. That's the second top division in Edmonton, there is Major Mens League and then First Division."

We were as surprised as hell to win, I didn't think just having Rick was enough, but we all pulled together and played well. I think having the home crowd helped as well."

The Pacers' game plan was to watch Dale Getty who was the consistent shooter for Norwood.

"We were scared of him. We knew they were bigger than us so we thought if we could run them a bit and really work with Rick. We had to work Rick, drop out, try and drive them and when they got into foul trouble, it was basically run and gun."

As well the Pacers tried to peel the lanes and tried not to give them any easy shots and try to grab all the rebounds. They knew getting rebounds was possible with Stanley and Jim Mistol in the lineup

"We were supposed to play with him (Stanley) in another tournament but it got cancelled. There is a lot of guys that like this tournament because of a lot of hardware and there is a lot of money involved, so there is a good calibre of ballplayers. There is a lot of ex-University players here who have played for the University of Alberta and were Canada west all-stars...so it brings a really high quality of players in."

Once again Stanley was named the MVP of the tournament. Making the first all star team were Jim Mistol, Tom Groat, Dale Getty, Grant Ashlee, and Ingles Anderson. Named to the second team were Terry Mistol, Rick Gawlick, Ron Sundt, Don Brill and Mike Kardis.

Close game for Elks, Pontiacs

Elk Point Elks came back from a bad start to lose to the league-leading Bonnyville Pontiacs by a single goal, before a sizeable Valentine's Day crowd in Elk Point.

The Pontiacs took a speedy lead in the game, scoring twice in the first two minutes of play. Dan Ferguson took only 59 seconds to find the mark, off assists by Brian Popowich and Mike Tookey, with an almost-instant replay by Denis Fontaine, assisted by Rob Cadieux. The Pontiacs' lead climbed to three goals at the 11:07 mark, and went up yet another notch later in the period, when Claude Lapointe scored off an assist by Tookey.

A long, unassisted shot by Kerry Loughran at the 3:18 mark finally got the Elks on the scoreboard, giving the Pontiacs a 4-1 lead at the end of the first period.

The second period was a lively one, with a total of 15 minor infractions keeping the penalty box doors swinging, but both goalies kept their noses to the grindstone and all shots out of the nets.

The Elks ended the scoring drought in the third period, with another goal by Kerry Loughran, assisted by Michael Boratyniec and Rick McMartin.

After more than seven penalty-free minutes in the third period, good behavior proved too much of a strain for both teams, with a resulting battle sending Elks Delwyn Slem and Willie Lesyk and the Pontiacs' Claude Lapointe out of the game. Several more minor penalties kept the referee busy for the balance of the game.

During one of those penalties, the Elks scored a shorthanded goal, the final score to 4-3 in Bonnyville's favor, with Kerry Loughran again doing the honors, off an assist by George Ward.

SUPER DUPER SUPER STAR - Rick Stanley was the key element in helping the Elk Point Pacers win their basketball tournament last weekend, ending a nine year drought. In the final game, Stanley scored 61 points and was named the tournament's most valuable player.

Chamber notes

Cold weather once again trimmed Chamber of Commerce attendance to a minimum, with only ten members on hand February 15 to finalize plans for the Annual Meeting, and to discuss the Chamber's role in the Pee-wee Provincial Tournament.

The speedily arranged Annual Meeting was set for Monday, February 20, with Judy Berghoffer of Alberta Culture Historic Sites Service as guest speaker.

The gaps in the 1989 executive were filled in readiness for the Annual Meeting, with Vicki Brooker volunteering to remain as President, Bill Tremblay consenting to take the Vice President's chair, and new member Lauri Leaf agreeing to serve as Treasurer. Committees were left to be set at the Annual Meeting, when a substantially larger attendance was anticipated.

The committee delegated to look into the feasibility of hosting a pancake breakfast for the participants, parents and coaches involved in the Provincial Pee Wee C Tournament has run into a number of snags, including no suitable place to hold the event, fear that the breakfast would take business away from local restaurants, and even the question of whether coaches would permit their players to eat before a game. A donor for much of the food was, however, found, but plans are presently at a standstill.

Other plans pertaining to the tournament weekend include donation of bags and promotional items for the players' goodie bags, decorating businesses, and making the visitors from across the province feel welcome in Elk Point. Shirley Harms, who serves on the Agricultural Society committee planning for the tournament, said the Society would be grateful for the Chamber's help 'in any way' concerning the event.

Nutrition month

Nutritionists in northeast Alberta are gearing up for the March 3 kickoff of Nutrition Month, with that day designated as Nutrition Day in an area covering from the Saskatchewan border west to Tofield, from Lac La Biche and Cold Lake in the north to Provost in the south.

A troupe of animated vegetables will visit schools, restaurants and seniors' lodges in St. Paul and Elk Point, with the CKSA television crew on hand to film the fun. Between 70 and 75 restaurants in the Lakeland will be taking part in the promotion of healthy eating habits, with the use of special Nutrition Month placemats during March.

Television and radio advertising and programming will also remind the public to enjoy a healthy diet.

The Nutrition Month promotion is a joint project of the Lakeland Alberta Registered Dietitians, Alberta Home Economics Association Lakeland Branch, and the North East Region Home Economics Council of the Alberta Teachers Association.

Watch for further Nutrition Month news in your local newspaper, too.

Drug awareness seminar

By Cst. Doug Huskins

The use of illicit drugs appears to have infiltrated almost every aspect of our society, from the down and outers on Slum Street to the most elite of our sports and entertainment heroes. Enforcement alone cannot control or remove this menace from our lives. Combined with public awareness and education, however, the goal of a drug free life for ourselves and our children is much more of a reality.

With this in mind, please accept my invitation to attend our Drug Awareness Seminar on Monday, Feb. 27, at 7:00 p.m. at the F.G. Miller High School. The Family Community Support Services, in conjunction with A.A.D.A.C. and the Elk Point R.C.M.P. Detachment, will provide an opportunity for adults and young people to share with us a greater knowledge of the drug problem, and how it affects each of us.

The program will commence with addresses to all in attendance, followed by the audience being split into a group of parents and another con-group will be encouraged to share their concerns, without "Mom and Dad", or "The Kids" listening. I'll go with "Mom and Dad", as both a police officer and a concerned parent, so "The Kids" won't have to worry about me listening, either.

A drug kit will be on display, for those of us, "who wouldn't know a drug if it dropped on my head". Conversation regarding the effects of drugs on the body as well as the legal aspects of drug enforcement will hopefully allow everyone to attain a greater appreciation of just what we are dealing with. I sincerely hope that each of you reading this article will circle next Monday on the calendar and help us make the night a success.

What's news at the library?

February 17-24 is Freedom to Read Week. The Elk Point Public Library Board has incorporated into their policies the Statement of Intellectual Freedom. It is the purpose of libraries to support free access to ideas, to promote free expression, to provide public information, and to foster enlightenment. These goals are accomplished through a collection that includes the widest diversity of views and expressions including those which adherence are unorthodox and orthodox, popular and unpopular, from whatever viewpoint. A rigorous adherence to the principle of Intellectual Freedom protects these important rights.

If you would like a copy of the Statement of Intellectual Freedom adopted by the Canadian Library Association, you may pick one up at the library and see our display as well.

We have three new music cassettes, they are: "Nothing Like the Sun" by Sting, "Heart" by Heart, and "Hold Me" by Laura Branigan.

Another new volume on the History of Great Britain has come. This one is entitled "Four Gothic Kings" also edited by E. Hallam. It concerns the reigns of four Plantagenet monarchs that were marked by a series of continuing horrors, of famine war, disorder and cruelty, culminating in the Black Death - a plague that swept Europe annihilating almost half the population. It is also beautifully illustrated.

We also have received a new cookbook, "Canadian Living Microwave Cookbook" by Margaret Fraser. This volume contains over 175 easy-to-prepare recipes for all brands of microwave ovens. You will discover hundreds of ways to make your microwave the best friend a cook ever had. It is wonderfully illustrated.

Former resident earns CA

Former Elk Point resident, Beverly Topylki, was presented her Chartered Accountant (CA) designation at ceremonies in Edmonton, Alberta, on February 4, 1989.

Topylki was one of 146 CA candidates to be admitted to the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta this year, after successfully passing the 1988 national Uniform Final Examination. She is currently employed with the Edmonton firm of Collins Barrow, Chartered Accountants.

To earn the CA designation, candidates are required to complete a university degree program, pass an extensive series of financial courses and examinations and serve a two to three-year term of service under the guidance of an approved Chartered Accountancy firm, in addition to passing the Uniform Final Examination.

Topylki graduated from the University of Alberta in 1986 with a Bachelor of Commerce degree, and completed her term of service with Collins Barrow.

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta has been servicing Alberta's financial and business communities in the public interest for over 75 years. Its 5,150 members provide professional accounting expertise throughout Alberta as public accountants, and in financial and other responsible positions in business, industry, education and government.

Neptune, your sign ruler Pisces, brings a strong and generally fortunate emphasis to all your relationships, romantic as well as social. Also lots of fringe benefits for you. Watch for creative work and investments this week. As your new birthday cycle begins you will experience all kinds of ups and downs, later they will be hilarious. Neptune can have a chameleonlike tendency to turn your dreams into nightmares. Take off those rose-colored glasses soon and see things as they really are.

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 19)

Keep risks to a minimum. Listen to another point of view this week. Fan the flames of romance. Prepare to make adjustments when changes at home or at work threaten to upset your equilibrium. Watch a tendency to get in way over your head.

Taurus (Apr 20 - May 20)

Stay on your toes, you're still holding the winning hand. Control your temper, stay open-minded and you'll come out on top. Don't take on an overload of work, that will put you under pressure. Try diet and exercise to relax tired muscles.

Gemini (May 21 - Jun 21)

Tantalizing and tempting opportunities could tease you into taking quick action. Don't! You're not ready to leave for anywhere yet. Play for time, keep your options open. The full Moon on the 20th may mark an episode that is baffling and surprising.

Cancer (Jun 22 - Jul 22)

A rocky relationship could do a surprise turnaround if you'll try a little tenderness and don't overreact. The Moon, ruler of your sign, begins and ends the month in your solar sixth house of work, health, and service to others. Avoid over spending.

Leo (Jul 23 - Aug 22)

Hearts and flowers is your theme all week as love blossoms. The Sun, ruler of your sign, sends loud-and-clear message, no risks, spend no money, speculation is a no-no. Do not commit yourself, it's full steam ahead. Don't lock horns with anyone.

Virgo (Aug 24 - Sept 23)

Mercury, your sign ruler, emphasis on efforts to help another with a problem. Don't let it overburden you. A fresh perspective on things this week is a boon to helping you share your feelings more communicatively. Stick with it. There are educational advantages.

Libra (Sept 24 - Oct 23)

The full moon brings a fine assortment of pleasant topics. Could bring an unexpected solution from a domestic source. Venus, your sign ruler, can enliven your love life but there are also storm warnings - so take note! No total cooperation in your house.

Scorpio (Oct 24 - Nov 21)

You count on your keen psychological insight to help you prove your point. Aim for harmony rather than confrontation now. No big problems but lots of little aggravations. The ties that bind, do! There is a possibility of getting around regulations.

Sagittarius (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

You may be tagged by higher-ups for a promotion. You yourself may derail a favorite project, whether through neglect, rash judgement or your well-known tendency to be too outspoken! Jupiter, your sign ruler, emphasises on a sidestep of inflammatory topics. Be Quiet!

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 19)

You'll need some fancy foot-work to keep up with your spouse this week. Be prepared for quick changes. Saturn, your sign ruler, influences a celestial merry-go-round for you, money, gifts, travel, romance, a joyous influence from zesty Saturn!

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 18)

With Venus and a full Moon in your sign, prepare for a fast-paced week. Stay positive and flexible. 1989 will find you focusing on long term goals. New people will come into your life this summer. Lucky numbers, 3, 10, 21.

Pisces (Feb 19 - Mar 20)

If you've been wearing your heart on your sleeve, try playing hard-to-get and channel your energies into other work. A change of scene could spark your love life. It's no time for wild gambles. Despite honest efforts, money is another relationship thorn!

Golden Eagles still meeting the challenge

By Harvey Aarbo
Coach

On behalf of the coaching staff of the Elk Point Golden Eagles, I would like to thank Allen Frankiw and Gordon McCuaig who represent Westmin Resources for sponsoring the annual Westmin Resources Tournament. Special thanks to Gordon for going into the dressing room and sharing the bubbly Sprite in the Westmin Cup with the whole team.

I would also like to thank and commend Art Lypka in a job well done in organizing and overseeing the Westmin Tournament.

Also I would like to congratulate the other Elk Point Pee Wee team and their coaches Jim Hawkins and Brian MacLellan for a great challenge in a very sportsmanlike manner. Best of luck in your provincial playoffs.

The Golden Eagles will be in the stands cheering you on.

The Golden Eagles have worked hard to be a credible and competitive team all year and now that we are privileged to represent Elk Point Pee Wee "C" in the provincial championship tournament, to be hosted by Elk Point on Mar. 17, 18, 19. We sincerely hope that Elk Point hockey players and fans will come out and support us in a last and most important challenge.

At this time the Golden Eagles have played 33 games, winning 31 and lost 2. We have succeeded in winning our first round of Provincial Playoffs with Bon Accord and now move on to play Cold Lake on Friday at 7:00 p.m.

Special thanks to our sponsors, Kehew Construction, owned by Gordon Gadwa and Eric Gadwa of Kehewin and Nick Matichuk of Bonnyville.

Pool against removal of oats from board

The Alberta Wheat Pool is strongly against the removal of oats from the Canadian Wheat Board's jurisdiction, and feels that the move is a 'hidden agenda' of the Federal Government, Tim Kennedy of the Wheat Pool's Vermilion office told a gathering of Elk Point area farmers at last week's delegate meeting.

Barley 'could go too,' Kennedy said, 'and we don't believe that's what you want.' He added that, while the Pool still will make money on handling the non-board oats, the producers' profits will be cut. The Pool is lobbying to have canola added to the Wheat Board's operations.

Kennedy also feels the Crow Rate benefits are in danger. 'Cutting the Crow Rate would save the government a billion dollars a year,' he noted, but this would prove yet another crushing financial burden to western grain farmers.

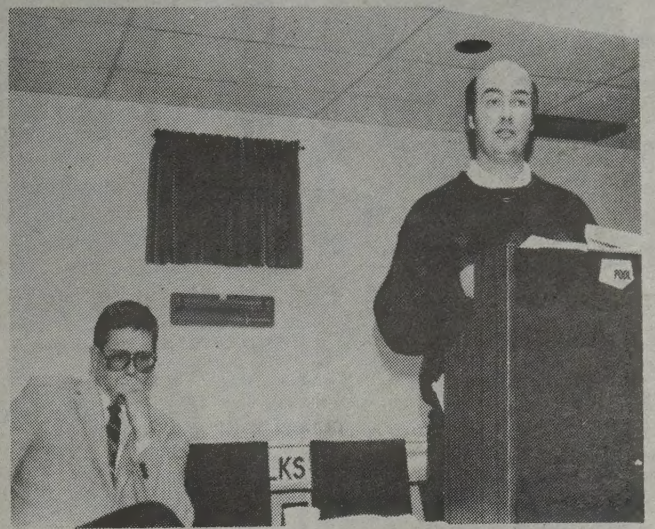

'Find out what the (federal by-election) candidates feel about the Wheat Board's actions, and about the Crow Rate,' Kennedy urged. 'And let your MLA know how you feel about them.'

A study is presently underway to determine the feasibility of the amalgamation of the three prairie Wheat Pools into a single body. Increased efficiency, diffusion of risk and decreased costs of operation could result from the amalgamation, but it is feared that a loss of member control, management and staff uncertainties and various governmental concerns could also develop. No action is to be taken, other than the study, until further directions are received from directors and members of the three Pools.

The Saskatchewan Pool, with 65,000 members, Alberta with 45,000 members, and Manitoba with 18,000 members, have a combined income of $3.18 billion, a fraction of the sales any of the big grain companies, such as Cargill, Conagra, Continental and Elders, enjoy annually.

Local Alberta Wheat Pool delegate Ken Shalka told the gathering about the decentralization of Pool's country operations division, which now has 6 regional managers and 28 area managers. A slide presentation showed the Pool's latest developments, including new facilities at Valleyview-Grande Prairie and at Three Cities, in the McLaughlin-Paradise Valley area. The Pool's terminal in Vancouver is also being upgraded to speed grain handling at that location.

Elk Point Minor Hockey

Prepares for championship

As the March 17, 18, 19 weekend approaches and with it the Alberta Pee Wee "C" Hockey Championship the Elk Point and District Minor Hockey Association has several announcements to make.

Milton Lorenson has accepted the position of Tournament Chairman for this prestigious event. Milton will coordinate all hockey activities that weekend, act as a liaison between teams, referees, and A.A.H.A. officials and in general be in charge of all disputes and discipline matters.

Milton brings to the tournament a long and successful hockey history including managing, coaching, and league operations. Last year Milton managed the Windsor Midgets who won Zone II championship and challenged for the Alberta championship in Valleyview.

The tournament chairman's position is key to the success of this championship. The Elk Point and District Minor Hockey Association would like to express a special thank you to Milton Lorenson for accepting this position.

Hosting a championship tournament involves much more than hockey and the playing of the game. Aspects of this event such as fund raising, scheduling, tournament workers, programs, entertainment, opening ceremonies and decorating will require no less than twelve committees. To efficiently and effectively complete these many tasks the Elk Point and District Minor Hockey Association are pleased to announce that Shirley Harms has accepted the position as business manager for the tournament.

Shirley brings a strong business background in computer operations and accounting as well as twelve years of experience serving with several minor hockey associations in various capacities. The Elk Point and District Minor Hockey Association would like to sincerely thank Shirley for accepting this position.

One of the biggest responsibilities of this championship is the hosting of a banquet capable of seating 400 to 600 people. The banquet is a long standing tradition with the Alberta Championship.

It is therefore with great pride that the organizing committee announces that the B.P.O. Elks and the Royal Purple have agreed to host this event. A function of this magnitude requires hours of planning, preparation and many capable volunteers. The entire Minor Hockey Association appreciates this great effort and thanks all members of the Elks and Royal Purple for their support.

Watch in next week's Lakeland Review for more news on this exciting Elk Point sporting event. If further information is required please contact the Minor Hockey Association President Dave Kenyon at 724-2295 (H) or 724-3781 (B) or the tournament business manager Shirley Harms at 724-3770 (H) or 724-4413 (B).
